FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE

Many Grooms Take Bonny
Brides In These November Days.

FLORIDA WEDDING.

Young Hopkinsville Business
Man Weds Beautiful
Southern Belle.

Mr. Jas. M. Forbes, of this city, and Miss Dixie Bass, of Pensacola, Fla., were married at the First Baptist church, Pensacola, Wednesday at 11:30 a. m. Miss Cornie Bass, the brides sister, was maid of honor and Mr. Walter E. Howe, of this city, was the best man. They left at once on a tour of three weeks and will be at home early in December. Mr. Forbes is a son of Mr. M. C. Forbes and is his father's representative in the management of the Mogul Wagon Factory. The beautiful bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. Oscar L. Bass, who was for several years a shoe merchant in this city. She possesses many personal charms, her beauty being of the tall and graceful brunette type, for which the South is noted. She was a member of the Oumswie Club during her residence here as a school girl and was very popular in society circles.

FLORIDA-KENTUCKY.

Mr. John H. Whaley, of Pensacola, Fla., and Miss Julia F. Lyon, of Nashville, were married Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Chas. O. Prowse. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. C. Abbott and immediately thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Whaley left for their Southern home. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Prowse.

ATKINS-BURRIS.

Mr. Riley W. Atkins and Miss Marion Burris were married Wednesday night at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fannie Burris, a few miles east of town. Rev. H. D. Smith performed the ceremony. After a wedding supper the young couple drove to the groom's home on the Canton Pike, near the city.

In May 1907 Miss Burris was a winner in the Kentuckian's popularity contest and went to the Jamestown Exposition as a guest of the paper, with three other young ladies, Misses Maybel Dillman, Maud Shanklin and Lois Adcock. That the voters knew what they were doing is attested by the fact that all but one of the quartette have been married during the last year. Misses Dillman and Shanklin became brides last winter.

Mr. Atkins is a son of Mr. W. T. Atkins and is a prosperous young farmer of fine character. His bride is a most attractive young lady of many lovable qualities.

A Linen Shower.

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Jno. T. Hall entertained quite a number of friends in honor of Miss Laura Marion Burris.

Little Miss Clara Hall met the guests at the door while Mrs. Hall invited them into her parlor where, in the center of the room and just over the bride-elect's chair, was a white umbrella suspended by white ribbon and on it was piled linen articles of every description, some being very handsome.

After the guests had assembled Miss Burris entered and was seated just under the umbrella. Mrs. Hall gave the first toast in which the approaching marriage of Miss Burris and Mr. R. C. Atkins was announced. Mrs. C. A. Cundiff, Mrs. R. B. Hall and Mrs. R. Bailey toasted the bride-elect, after which a ribbon was drawn and the shower fell. Then the bride responded.

"I am a goddess of the ambrosial courts."

Thanking each and all for the happiness given her.

All were then invited into the dining room, where a delightful luncheon was served, the table being in white and lighted by old fashioned candlebras, heirlooms of the families.

McCutcheon-Wilder.

Prison Commissioner Harvey S. McCutcheon and Miss Ethel Virginia Wilder were married in Louisville Wednesday night, and left on a bridal tour.

Kentucky by National

Bailey, of New York; Henry Wallace, of Iowa; Kenyon Butterfield, of Massachusetts; Walter H. Page, of North Carolina; Gifford Pinchot, of the United States Forest Service, and E. W. LAST DAY

That Game Law Protects
Birds and Rabbits.

The hunting season opens to-morrow, but the sportsmen will probably wait until Monday to begin the extermination of quail and rabbits. Many farms have been posted and there is but little ground for public hunting in the county. The birds are said to be fairly plentiful this year and as no pot hunters can kill them for profit, the shooting is expected to be good until the season closes January 1st.

Alumni Meeting.

Mrs. John B. Trice, President of the Bethel College Alumni Association, has called a meeting for this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. John R. Green. All of the members are urged to be present.

The High School team went to Pembroke yesterday to play the Pembroke School eleven.

WOMAN'S WARRANT

Causes Richard J. Pollard to Be Arrested as Night
Rider.

Released After Spending a
Day in Jail in St.
Louis.

A few days ago Mayor Meacham received a letter from Mrs. L. R. Lovelace, of St. Louis, saying that a man giving his name as Pollard had confessed to her that he was a night rider and had been in the Hopkinsville raid. Mrs. Lovelace was asked to reduce her story as obtained to writing and send it in for investigation, but on Wednesday she had Pollard arrested and the same evening the following telegram was received by the Mayor:

"Richard J. Pollard, said to be a night rider, arrested here. Mrs. Lovelace says Pollard admitted guilt. Pollard declares he was only jesting. Do you want him?"

"E. P. Creecy, Chief of Police." Pollard was described as a young man of 23, heavily tattooed on his arms and body and having a great shock of black hair. Mayor Meacham wired the St. Louis officer to take Mrs. Lovelace's affidavit and release the man, which was done.

Mrs. Lovelace formerly lived at Earlington and is said to be a lodging house keeper in St. Louis.

EDITORIAL

That Caused the Death of Ex-Senator Carmack.

Following is the editorial in Carmack's paper, in regard to the conference of Gov. Patterson and ex-Gov. Cox, which probably caused the duel in which Editor Carmack was killed:

"To Major Duncan Brown Cooper, who wrought the great coalition; who achieved the harmonious confluence of incompatible elements; who welded the pewter handle to the wooden spoon; who grafted the dead bough to the living tree and made it to bloom and burgeon and bend with golden fruit; who made playmates of the lamb and the leopard and boon companions of the spider and the fly; who made soda and vinegar to dwell placidly in the same bottle and who taught oil and water how they might agree—to Major Duncan Brown Cooper, the great diplomat of the political Zwickbund, all honor and glory forever."

EVIDENTLY ACCIDENTAL

Drops One Hundred and Ten Feet and Body is Terribly Mangled.

New York, Nov. 12.—Harvey W. Watterson, a lawyer and younger son of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, plunged to his death from the nineteenth floor of his office building at 37 Wall street Wednesday afternoon.

His body shot downward for 110 feet and landed on the roof of a ten-story building adjoining. Almost every bone was broken and the head crushed, and death was practically instantaneous.

While there were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy, evidently it was entirely accidental.

Watterson was born and reared in Louisville, Ky. When about twenty-one years old he came to New York and entered Columbia University law school. During the time he was a student there he taught in a night school. He leaves a wife, but no children.

The burial will be in Louisville.
